

Beaverton Medical Provider

Hello, my name is Nancy Meza. I am a certified physician assistant; obtained my Master's degree in physician assistant studies from Oregon Health & Science University and graduated with a Bachelor's of Science degree in general science from Oregon State University. I've been practicing medicine as a PA in the primary care setting since February of 2015.

I chose to work in primary care because I enjoy the relationships I get to form with patients and their families. I feel honored to serve families and to help empower them to lead healthier lives. I emphasize preventative health and wellness and believe a holistic understanding of health is essential to treating patients.

I was born and raised in Hood River, OR together with my three brothers. I speak English and Spanish fluently. Like many Oregonians, I have a passion for the outdoors and enjoy hiking and exploring the Columbia River Gorge. In my free time I like going camping, backpacking, dancing, traveling, music, and spending time with my family and friends.
